DETAILED ACTION

Examiner acknowledges receipt of (4/27/05) preliminary amendment to the claims that were entered into the file. Claims 1-6 are currently pending.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-4, drawn to a method of applying a viscous fluid.

Group II, claim(s) 5-6, drawn to an apparatus of applying viscous fluid.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: There exists a lack of unity of invention a posteriori in view of Boger et al.(US patent 5,720,820; hereafter '820). '820 teaches the technical feature linking the two groups, thereby making it common. '820 teaches an apparatus for applying a viscous fluid material to an object (abstract and Fig 1-3) comprising:

3. a nozzle (30) in contact of the object, the object movable in a predetermined direction (arrow) (Fig 1);
4. a gun body (80) supporting said nozzle (30), said gun body including a fluid passage for supplying the viscous fluid material (99) to said nozzle and an air passage for supplying a compression gas (92) to said nozzle (Fig 3); and
5. a heater coupled with said gun body for heating the compression gas (107) (Fig 2),

Art Unit: 1762

6. wherein said nozzle is provided with a slot for dispensing the viscous fluid material (40) onto the object and an opening positioned downstream of said slot in the predetermined direction for discharging the heated compression gas against the viscous fluid material on the object (61) thereby forcing the viscous fluid material against the object (Fig 1, 2).

7. A telephone call was made to Kevin Rooney on 8/22/2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
